I can't stay here, my friend....

HUNTING SEASON OPEN

I've heard in That Country, where it's cold, it's safe for people in elephant coats!

We'll miss you!

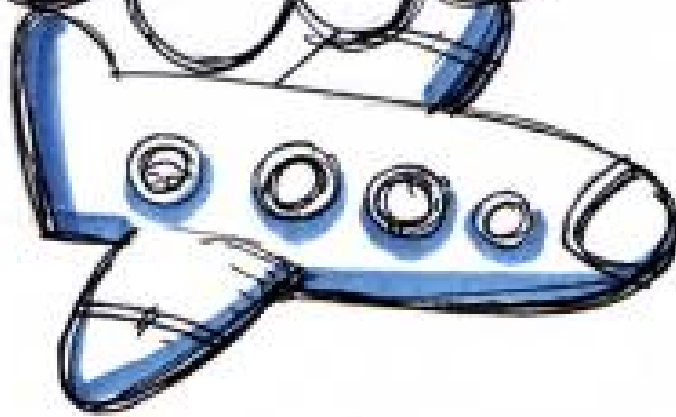

I'll come back, I promise. As soon as the hunting season is over.

the majority of refugees want to return to their home

almost all of them come with no idea about what life will be like in the new place

What will it be like,
in That snowy Country?

In our country every coat must have a certificate!
Especially yours, it's so exotic.

Certificate-
Border

...and knowing nothing about its laws.

Oh, your coat looks so exotic.
Is it real?

Of course, I have a certificate...

But it's my
certificate...
for my coat...

It was yours, now it's mine!
Now I can pass off any fake coat for a real one!

3.

not knowing who they can trust, many become victims of scams with their documents.

Stay away from that man.
He looks strange.
He might have fleas.

Immigrant
scum!

Where are you from,
weirdo?

I bet his coat is fake.

And he doesn't even
speak our language!

*because of their unusual appearance
they may be harassed by local people*

Hey, come with me!
If your certificate's gone,
they'll help you here!

Certificates
Issued

Certificate issued to:
Elephant in a Strange Coat.
Originally from: That Country.
The coat is considered real.
Can be worn in This Country
for 1 year.

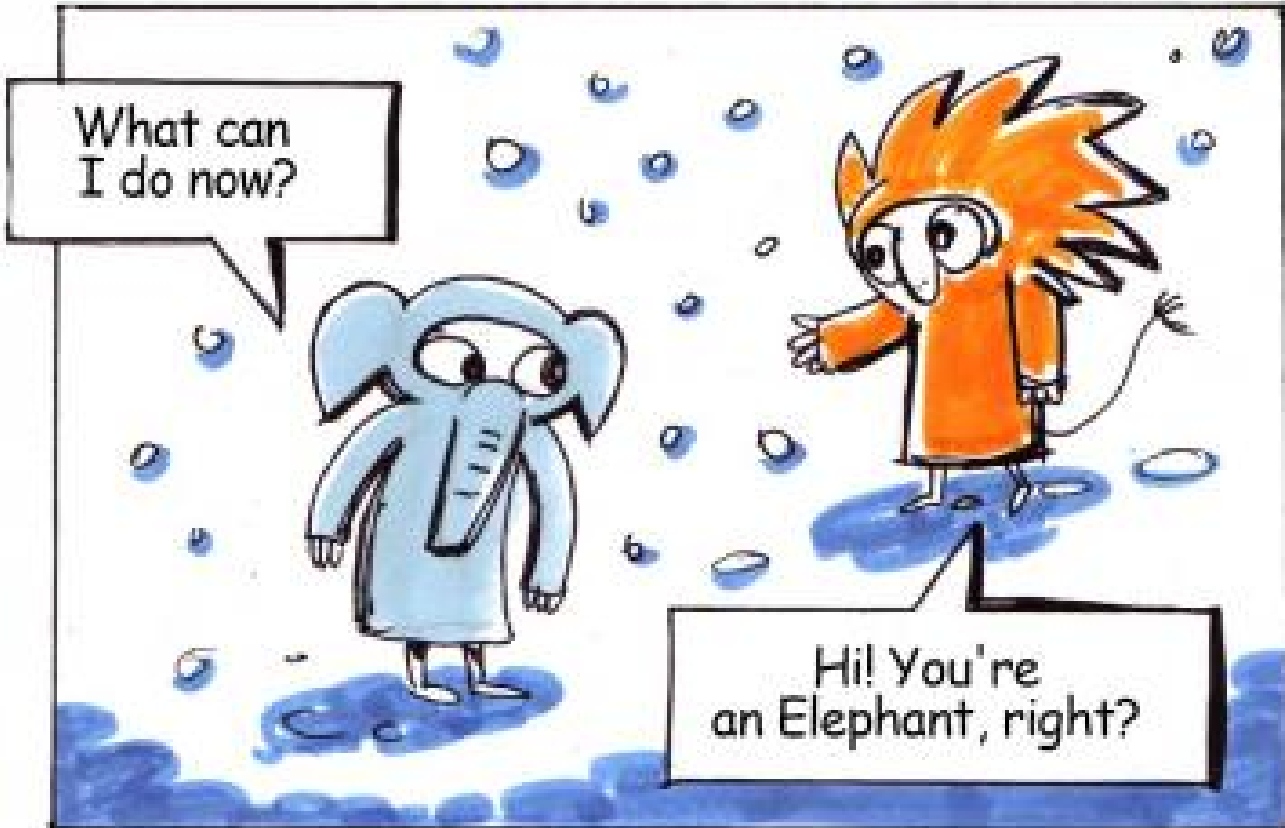

*there are organizations that help
migrants to make or renew their documents*

JOBS

Coat Certificate.

Your coat certificate doesn't say you can work.
We need a different certificate!

What can
I do now?

Hi! You're
an Elephant, right?

Here we're all from
That Country.
And we live here together.

Oh, so many familiar coats!
A small space, but room enough for all!

Home, sweet home, I miss you so much.
Sun, sand, palm trees...

7.

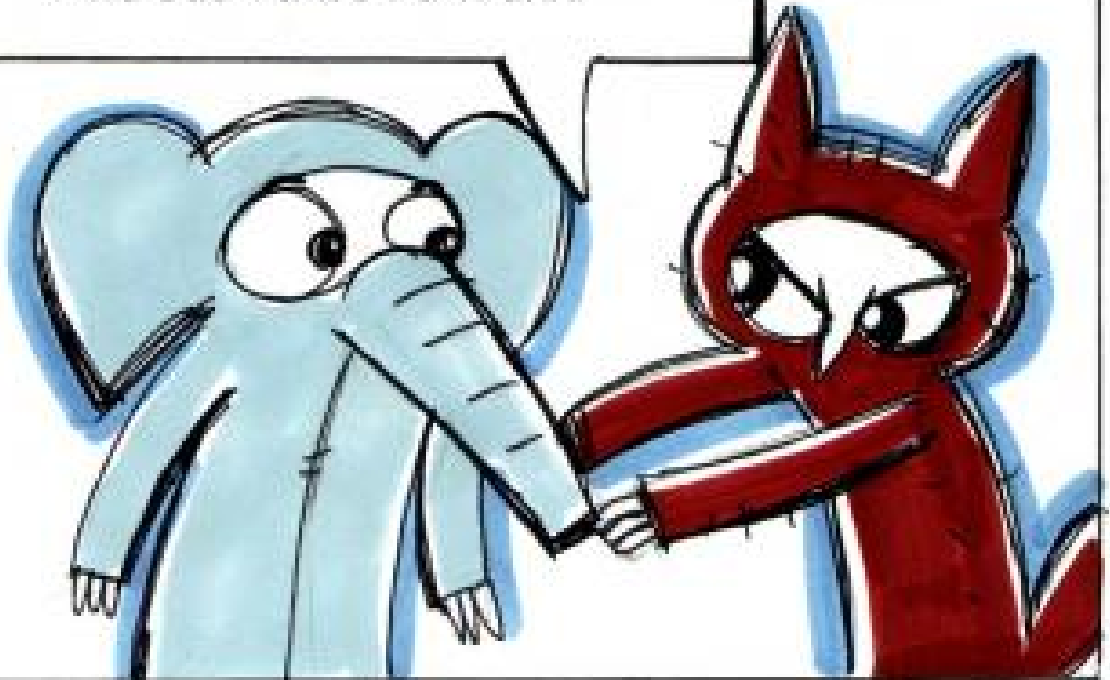

immigrants often help each other and stick together

Hey you, what are you doing here? You'll scare everyone off with that coat!

Urgh, what an ugly coat!
And such a weird trunk!

I'm gonna rip those
freaky ears off!!

No, please, no!

Well look, why did you start a fight? My coat came off...

Oh, so that's how you look without it?

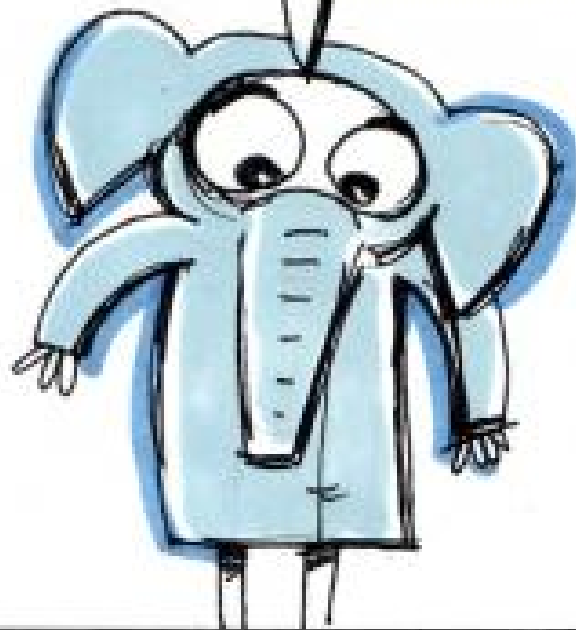

Yeah.

A coat is just a top layer. Mine shows that I'm from That Country. There, our coats are all very different and beautiful. And it keeps me warm...

Comfortable.
Just like mine

Hmm, from the inside you
can't tell the difference.
It's just a warm as mine.

Hey! How can they be like that?!
It's just a coat!

Hey you, in the
weird coat!
Get out of here!

Quick, take it off!
I'm already used
to that reaction!

So I guess it doesn't matter what coat you wear — inside we're all the same. I don't ever want to wear a coat again!

It's snowing... Quickly, put it on, you'll freeze!
And anyway... your coat is beautiful.

So's yours.

But the hood - I won't wear it anymore.
We all have similar faces,
and I don't want to hide mine.

Our coats are all different and beautiful, and none is better than any other. After all, it's cold without a coat, and there's no point going around naked...

So what do YOU see: the person or the coat?
